Building design softwareQ: findstr syntax to match using keywords and string at the same time I'm writing a bash script.
I want to search a directory and display the results. This works, but it only prints what it actually contains within the string (if I search for Hello it actually prints the word Hello, not the word Hello Hello Hello Hello Hello Hello). findstr /R /G:"$name" /G:"$domain" /C:"$extension" /C:"$extension.gz"
/C:"$extension2.ext" $cwd So, how do I have it print the whole string, as a string (not just the part within the word) where I have searched for Hello etc. A: Add quotation marks around your pattern: findstr /R "/G:'$name'" /G:"$domain"

How can I search for an element via class name and perform an action? Headline
